

The Ultimate Planning Checklist for Yurt Glamping

✓ Where to Glamp in the U.S.

- State Parks
Our home state of Oregon offers glamping in yurts, cabins and teepees. Many other states now offer yurts. Check your state's parks for yurt glamping options.
- Online Rent Lodging Sites
At Airbnb.com, you'll find yurts, teepees and tents listed alongside private rooms. GlampingHub.com is another great online resource to bookmark.
- Private Resorts
There are private glamping resorts across the US, from Treebones Resort in California to Nantahala Yurt Village in North Carolina.

✓ What Amenities You Might Find in a Glamping Yurt

- Table and chairs
- A covered porch/outdoor seating area
- An outdoor fire ring
- Bed(s) and/or futon couches
- Some glamping facilities will also include electricity, running water, and appliances, such as a TV, a small refrigerator, and a microwave
- Deluxe glamping yurts may also have a shower
- It's important to note that amenities will vary from one resort/campground to another

✓ Important Items To Bring Glamping

- Multiple Layers of Clothing

This is particularly important if you are hiking into your glamping abode; you want to be warm enough to withstand the elements without the yurt, in case you don't make it there before dark. Even if you are camping in a luxurious environment, it is smart to dress in layers so that you are comfortable no matter what the weather brings.

- Fire Starter

It's possible your cooking will need to be done over a fire ring or outdoor grill. Be sure to bring matches and firewood.

- Kitchen Items

Silverware, cups, and plates will be needed for each member of your party. Of course, you'll need food and water for your stay.

- Bedding

Most state park glamping facilities will require you to bring your own sheets, blankets, and/or sleeping bags.

- Flashlight or Lantern

Although many locations are wired for electricity, it's always important to have your own light source available.

- Personal Items for Comfort and Relaxation

This may include a good book, binoculars, your favorite pillow, etc.

✓ What to Do On Your Glamping Trip

- Disconnect

Glamping is the perfect opportunity to meditate, journal, and take a break from the chaos of modern life.

- Hike, Fish, and Play Outside

Go for a hike; find a local swimming hole; sketch the scenery. However you like to enjoy nature, this is your chance!

- Play Board Games

Bring your favorite games to enjoy after dark. Nothing brings a group together like a great game of Scrabble, Monopoly, or Pictionary.

Once you glamp, you may never go back to traditional tent camping!
